Dear Ms. Giddley:

This will acknowledge receipt of your letter dated January 3, 2009, requesting to have your restitution payments deferred until you are released.

The payments will not be deferred. Difficult as it may be to make the payments, it will only be more difficult when you do not have your room, board and medical care provided for you by the Bureau of Prisons. The prison will not deduct more from your account balance than you have in the account, minus a base amount for telephone calls and necessities. It is beneficial to you to get into the routine of making the payments, as your obligation will continue once you are released.

Very truly yours,

/s/
